

Lana's Success: Finding Her Place in Loyola's Kitchen

In the bustling kitchen of Loyola Catholic School, Lana found her niche. As a dishwasher, her role is seemingly repetitive—cleaning trays after the kids finished their meals, ensuring the dish room sparkles, and maintaining order. At the end of each day, she diligently cleans the entire dish room, leaving it immaculate for the following morning.

Sandy, her supervisor, couldn't be happier with Lana's work ethic and dedication. "Lana is doing awesome," Sandy remarked, emphasizing how much Lana contributes to the smooth operation of the school's kitchen.

Hannah Bo, Lana's MRCI employment specialist, had an equally glowing review. "Lana was so easy to place. Right when Lana came on my caseload, there was an opportunity at Loyola. She didn't hesitate and jumped right in with me."

Hannah worked alongside Lana during those initial shifts. She navigated the dish room like a seasoned pro, quickly finding her system. Her secret? Consistency. The same job every day suited Lana perfectly. Unlike her previous job, where work was inconsistent and eventually came to an end, Loyola offered stability.

Loyola welcomed Lana with open arms, allowing Lana to find her place. The students, always hungry, ensured that Lana's role was indispensable. She was needed, valued, and a vital part in the school's daily life.

Beyond the job itself, Lana enjoys a small perk that makes her day a little brighter: a free meal before her shift. It's a simple gesture, but one that adds to the positive environment at Loyola.

Lana's journey is a testament to the power of finding the right fit in the workplace. With her commitment, consistency, and a system that works for her, Lana has become an invaluable member of the Loyola Catholic School community. Her success story inspires others, showing that with the right attitude and support, anyone can excel in their chosen field.

About MRCI

MRCI provides genuine opportunities for people with disabilities and disadvantages at home, at work and in the community. To become an employment partner, or for more information, please call 507-386-5600.